

The Closing Card

Claim the last two minutes of any working conversation. Write it in the room, send it to everyone present, open the next meeting with it.

One action

The single next physical step. Not a theme, a step.

One owner

A name. "The team" is not a name.

One date

When it will be done, said out loud in the room.

One line of context

Why this step, so the card survives outside the room.

The ritual

Announce at the start: "we'll close with the card." Fill it in live. A card filled in later is a card filled in never.

The loop

Card review is the first agenda item of the next meeting. Closed loops are what build the momentum habit.
