

Drain Signals Self-Check

Learn your own signature first, then read teammates against their profiles. Name findings as structure, never as character.

THE FIVE SIGNALS

Avoidance with a pattern
One category of task perpetually re-prioritized while everything else moves.

Quality inversion
Errors appearing specifically in detail, follow-through, or framing, whichever matches the tertiary.

Meeting-type irritability
Fine in some rooms, visibly depleted in others, the room type names the drain.

Disproportionate recovery
A small tertiary task costing an afternoon of flatness afterward.

Language shifts
"I just need to push through," said about the same work, repeatedly.
